

GRI ROUNDTABLES

An international community of practice for sustainability reporting

The Challenge

As the global cornerstone of sustainability reporting, it is GRI’s responsibility to motivate and enable reporters to strive for a better quality reporting. Motivated by the belief that better sustainability reporting processes will empower better disclosure, GRI works to help businesses move beyond current sustainability reporting and disclosure practices.

The Roundtables

The GRI Roundtables gather locally-based, experienced practitioners to explore challenges and best practices in sustainability reporting in an intimate environment. The Roundtables, held four times annually, “go deep” in two specific practice areas per day to help organizations consider how the GRI Sustainability Reporting Standards can be implemented more effectively within both the GRI principles of reporting and the company’s own material topics. Facilitated by a member of GRI staff, the Roundtables are designed to maximize co-learning and networking among participants.

The Details

Participants may select one day or all four depending on interest and availability – be sure to sign on soon as sessions will close after 26 registrants. You qualify to attend if you meet the following qualifications:

- Manager level and above,
- Oversee the organization’s reporting process, and
- Have at least two years’ experience working with the GRI Standards

Non-GRI Community members	$700 per day
GRI Community members	Included*

*Associate members receive 20% discount from nonmember rate.

Series Sponsor:

Join us!

Atlanta
29 April
Georgia Tech

Topics:
 Materiality
 Occupational Health & Safety (GRI 403)

TO JOIN THE ROUNDTABLES, PLEASE CONTACT:

Alyson Genovese
Head of Regional Hub USA/Canada

+1.603.834.5585

genovese@globalreporting.org